TO PLACE ARCH OVER AVENUE

Massachusetts to Consider Spending $30,000 on Memorial at Gettysburg. Arch over Hancock Avenue is Proposed.

Having in mind the erection of a memorial arch over the entrance to Hancock avenue at the Taneytown road, commissioners from Massachusetts visited Gettysburg to-day. The state has no monument here and it is the plan to secure an appropriation of from $30,000 to $50,000 with the memorial arch as the most favored design. Colonel E. O. Skelton and Ralph Adams Cram, members of the "Massachusetts Commission on the placing of a memorial on the battlefield of Gettysburg by the state in honor of the sons of Massachusetts who fell in that battle", arrived in Gettysburg on Tuesday evening with Colonel Lewis E. Beidler to go over the local situation with reference to the selection of a site for the proposed Massachusetts memorial here.

The commission was authorized by the legislature of that state and appointed by the governor. In addition to Colonel Skelton and Mr. Cram, the other member is Augustus J. Hoitt. An appropriation for preliminary expenses has been made and the commission is expected to make their report at the next session of the Massachusetts State Legislature in January when it is expected that an appropriation will be authorized and a commission appointed to go ahead with the work.

Mr. Cram, one of the members who was here to-day, is the architect who will draw up the plans for the memorial.

While here the commissioners and Colonel Beidler stopped at the Eagle Hotel. They left at 2:55 this afternoon for Washington where they will lay their desires before the proper officials of the War Department in the hope that their selection of a site may be ratified. The design of the monument cannot come up for approval until it has been drawn up, though the general plan of having an archway will be advanced.

TIRED OF LIFE

Mervin F. Rebert Said he Did Not Care for Life.

In commenting on the recent death of Mervin F. Rebert the Waynesboro Record says:

A Waynesboro man who knew Rebert for many years, having been a neighbor of his for some time, met him recently in Gettysburg. Rebert had not engaged in conversation with him for several years but on the day referred to he called to him and talked at length with him. Among other things, Rebert said: "I'm not feeling well. I can't eat and I don't sleep well. I don't care any more whether I live or not."

KILLED IN HIS OWN GRIST MILL

Frank Welk Meets Tragic Death in his Grist Mill Near Littlestown. Caught in Machinery. Had Both Legs Broken.

Frank Welk, who operated a grist mill a short distance below Littlestown on the Baltimore pike, was killed Tuesday evening when he was caught in the machinery, sustaining injuries from which he died two hours later.

Mr. Welk was alone in the mill at the time of the accident. He had stooped down to pick up some corn cobs on the floor when his clothing was caught by a bolt on the main shaft. His coat was torn from his body and he was wound about the shaft. Both his legs were broken and he sustained very severe internal injuries.

Some one passing by at the time heard Mr. Welk's cries for help and, rushing in, they succeeded in stopping the engine. With the help of neighbors they extricated him from his position and took him to his home. A physician was summoned but it was at once seen that nothing could be done to save his life and all efforts were directed to make the remaining moments of his life as comfortable as possible.

Mr. Welk is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Harmon, of near Taneytown.

BUSY DAYS IN TOWN CHURCHES

United Brethren Church Gets New Heating System. College Congregation will Put on Slate Roof. Episcopal Parish House.

The council of the College Lutheran church has decided to place a roof of the best black Bangor slate on the roof, replacing the present wooden roof which is in a very bad state of repair. The new roof will cost in the neighborhood of $800. It is the intention of the council to have the work done at the earliest possible date so that it may be in place before the heavy snows of the winter come. The new parsonage on Springs avenue is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy before Christmas.

An improvement that is expected to mean much to the members of the United Brethren Church and Sunday School is in course of installation. A complete steam heating plant is being installed that will heat the entire church building. The old hot air furnace is about worn out and the new system will replace it. The entire cellar is being excavated and concrete will be laid, adding not a little to the value of the church property.

All the interior work at the parish house of the Church of the Prince of Peace has been completed with the exception of the painting and the building will soon be ready for actual occupancy. The Rev. Leroy F. Baker, general missionary of the Harrisburg Diocese, will preach the sermon at the service at 7:30 this evening. All are invited.

The true Christmas spirit was manifested in action taken this week by the official board of St. James Lutheran Sunday School when they decided to do away with the annual treat to the senior and adult departments and give each class the money instead, with the suggestion that the money be used in the purchase of things needed by poor families. All the preparations have been made for the bazaar which is to be held Friday and Saturday in the social rooms by the Young Ladies' Guild. The proceeds will be used for the building fund and for charity.

After the usual mid-week prayer service in the Methodist church this evening nominations will be made for the officers of the Sunday School during the coming year. The election will be held next Wednesday evening, the newly elected officers assuming their duties the first of the year.

ADDRESS PLEASED

Mr. Duncan Addressed Clearfield Elks on Sunday.

In its account of the Elks' memorial service held at Clearfield, the Daily Public Spirit of that place said of Charles S. Duncan, Esq. in part as follows: "Charles S. Duncan, of Gettysburg Lodge, No. 1045, was the orator of the day. Bro. Duncan, who is one of the leaders of the Adams county Bar, is a finished orator and his effort delighted all his hearers. His remarks throughout were listened to with the closest attention and no address in the experience of these memorial services ever elicited more universal expression of approval or presented the cause of Zikdom in such plain, understandable language to those of his hearers who were not of the elect."

"Bro. Duncan is an able eloquent, well-poised Elk and made a whole host of friends by his genial personality and good fellowship during his stay in Clearfield."

VETERAN DIES FROM EXPOSURE

Joseph Dewald, a Veteran of the Civil War, Dies in a Barn Near East Berlin, from Exposure and Exhaustion.

Joseph Dewald, eighty-four years old, a veteran of the Civil War, died Tuesday at 11 a. m., in the barn of James Altland, near East Berlin, where he had sought shelter last Friday. Death was due to exposure and exhaustion. Albert Altland, a son of James, on going to visit the veteran, at 9 a. m. Tuesday, found him benumbed by the cold, weak and semi-conscious.

Altland hurried to the Farmers' hotel and telephoned for Justice of the Peace W. S. K. Brown, for the purpose of having Dewald taken to the York county almshouse. Arrangements were made to take him there and Mr. Altland, Mr. Brown and Constable W. A. Wagner went to the Altland barn shortly after 11 o'clock. When they arrived they found Dewald had died.

Dewald has no known place of residence, but is well known in the vicinity of East Berlin, where he has appeared at intervals. On Friday he went to the Altland farm, which is not occupied and slept in the barn. He was not a well man at that time. Albert Altland, who lives about a half mile away, knowing the old soldier was sick in the barn, stopped in to see him, and made the discovery that he was dying.

He was a general favorite at college where he had an unusual number of friends. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Play from Harold Bell Wright's Book Coming to Gettysburg.

No modern writer of fiction can claim as many readers as Harold Bell Wright, his books having sold into the millions. The first presentation of "The Shepherd of the Hills" in this city will be given at Walter's Theatre, Friday evening, December 19. The story has been so widely read that a resume of it is practically unnecessary. MISS HELEN TODD.

Suffragist Who Asked Mr. Bryan a Few Questions.

MRS. PANKHURST, ILL, LEAVES FOR PARIS

Police Watch Departure, But Make No Objection.

London, Dec. 10.—Declaring that she would return for the cause when her health is regained, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, left for Paris.

Mrs. Pankhurst plans to join her daughter, Christabel, there. The police did not interfere with her departure.

"The government wants me to get out and stay out," she said, "but I am coming back to lead the fight when I get better."

Mrs. Pankhurst arrived at the station from the sanatorium in an automobile and was carried to her train on a stretcher.

Mrs. Pankhurst's daughter, Christabel, has remained in Paris since her last condemnation to imprisonment for attacking the police.

Mrs. Pankhurst is in a very weak condition as a result of her hunger and thirst strike in jail. It was announced when her release was ordered that she was suffering from pleurisy.

The ticket of leave under which she was released temporarily was put up at auction and fetched $750. H. D. Harden purchased the souvenir.

PATIENTS GIVEN POISON

Nurse's Mistake Nearly Cost Four Lives in Philadelphia Hospital.

Philadelphia, Dec. 10.—A young nurse in the Philadelphia General hospital gave four men who are patients in the tubercular ward of the institution at Bloekley doses of poison by mistake for medicine.

It was only through prompt treatment that the lives of the invalids were saved. They have now recovered from the effects of the dose.

The facts became known through Director Neff, of the department of public health and charities, at whose order a complete investigation is being made.

The patients were given the dose on Friday afternoon in mistake for salts, and in a moment were writhing in agony. Physicians were called in at once by the nurse and they applied first aid treatment. For several days, however, the condition of the sufferers was critical, but they have now recovered, Dr. Neff said.

The nurse who made the mistake suffered a nervous collapse when she found what she had done and has since been confined to her bed. No disposition has yet been made by the hospital authorities of her case.

1600 ATTEND STATE GRANGE

Delegates From Nearly Every County at Opening.

CREASY'S OPENING ADDRESS

Declares High Cost of Living Can Be Reduced by Dealing Direct With the Farmers.

Reading, Pa., Dec. 10.—The forty-first annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Grange was opened in the Auditorium here on Tuesday.

William T. Creasy, worthy master, spoke at the opening session and said the way to reduce the high cost of living was through the parcel post and by direct dealings with the farmers, excluding the middleman as unnecessary.

He said the Pennsylvania Grange had made a big gain in numbers during the year and now leads all other granges in the country.

The convention was opened behind closed doors. The official opening lasted an hour, and then the public was admitted and the annual address of Mr. Creasy was delivered. Fully 1600 packed the hall, taking up every available seat on the first floor and surrounding balconies. Members of the Chamber of Commerce have found rooms and boarding places for all of the visitors.

Mr. Creasy spoke on the work accomplished by the order and upon topics of general interest to the members of the grange. Among other things, he said:

"Since our last meeting one year ago fifty-seven subordinate granges have been added to the list, retaining the lead Pennsylvania has always shown in the grange movement. To retain this honor you must fight for the grange in your homes. A grange home is needed in every community, not only for grange meetings, but to attend to all farm activities, for without a social life we cannot keep our young people on the farms. The deputy work is of the greatest importance. A live energetic deputy is necessary to the proper development of the grange work in the country.

"The education of the children is one of the prime objects of our order. Since the foundation of the grange we have advocated that practical agriculture, domestic science and all the arts which adorn the home, be taught in the courses of study in our agricultural and industrial colleges and extended to our common schools system as far as possible.

"The grange affords the best possible agency for farmers to co-operate with the business man. Hence we must dispense with the middleman, not that we are unfriendly to him, but that we do not need him. It is impossible for the farmers, owing to the decrease in farm help, to bring their produce to the city, and it is therefore up to the customers to arrange a way in which they can capture it direct. In this matter the railroad plays an important part as relates to the local freight.

"Our legislative program, naturally, has been carried out in most of our demands. The parcel post, in the movement for which the Pennsylvania State Grange, with the other state granges, took an active part, has proven a success beyond our dreams, and the possibilities are that the weight limits will be increased to fifty pounds in the first and second zone limits. And we believe that the parcel post will be one of the great factors in reducing the high cost of living."

In speaking of the murders of a farmer, Mr. Creasy said that an equal taxation of the farmers as compared with other properties was unjust.

INDICT READING OFFICIALS

Find True Bills Against Clerk and Councilmen in Bribery Cases.

Reading, Pa., Dec. 10.—True bills were found by the grand jury in the criminal court in the bribery and conspiracy cases against City Clerk Ramsey and former Councilmen Lewis, Cummings and Flemming.

They are accused of accepting bribes in connection with the award of contracts for fire apparatus.

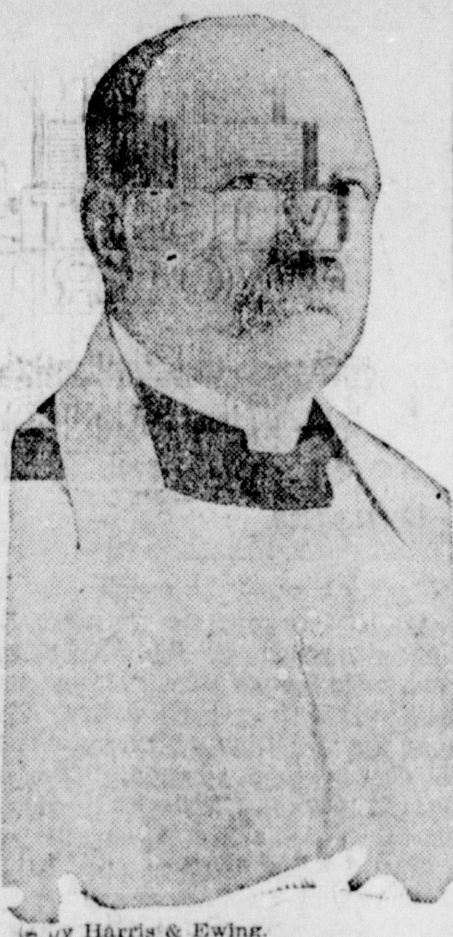

The case against J. H. Sloan and E. K. Conkling, the Burns detectives, charged by former Councilman Flemming with corrupt solicitation to attempt to bribe a city officer, were not disposed of by the grand jury. Sloan and Conkling are said to have trapped the officials with their detectaphone.

TENER HEADS THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

Elected by Base Ball Magnates to Succeed Lynch.

New York, Dec. 10.—Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, was elected president of the National League of Base Ball Clubs.

The election came after the retiring president, Thomas J. Lynch, had scored the magnates for their methods and suggested reformation on their part. Mr. Lynch said:

"In choosing your next president you have gone on record as wanting a man who will lend dignity and prestige to the National League. In your selection of Governor Tener as your president you have the right man, but I hope you will inject into yourselves some of the same dignity that you expect of him and be a help instead of a hindrance to him.

"In leaving this office, I want you to know that there is no ill-feeling on my part and I recognize it as a business proposition. I wish the National League and its new president all the success in the world."

Governor Tener was nominated by W. H. Baker, president of the Philadelphia club, and the nomination was seconded by President C. H. Ebbetts, of Brooklyn. The election was unanimous, Tener being chosen for a term of four years. John Heydler, whose term of secretary has two years to run, was re-elected for two years more.

A MEMORABLE TREAT

down. The colonel leaned farther back in the enveloping leather and a volley of expanding rings poured from beneath the carefully trimmed white mustache.

"That," he said, with a wave of his hand toward the throngs, "set me to thinking of how in my country school days we big, bad boys sometimes locked the teacher out to make him give us a Christmas treat. At the precise moment you soaked me on the shoulder I was thinking of the time we locked out our teacher. We notified him a week beforehand that we expected him to give us a nice, substantial treat when school 'let out,' as we said, on Christmas eve. He had been a good-natured fellow and had succeeded in keeping on good terms with us scamps in spite of us, so as we wanted, for the reason, to let him off as easily as possible we specified only a box of oranges and a box of candy.

"I'll think about it," he said, laughing, and we supposed it was as good as agreed to.

"So when on the morning of Christmas Eve day Mr. Teacher arrived without anything that possibly could contain a treat, we were hurt—doubly hurt to think that a supposed friend would treat us so. We silently waited till the noon hour, and when lunch-cans had been hurriedly gulped, two of us were detailed to get him away from the school house on some pretext or other. They succeeded, but he didn't stay long, as it was a cold day and there was snow. When he found the door locked he rattled the knob and called:

"Open the door, please! It is I, Mr. G—"

"Sorry," one of the boys replied through the keyhole, 'but you'll have to give us a Christmas treat before we let you in.'

"Come, boys, come," he said sternly. "It is too cold for joking. Let me in at once!"

"We're not joking; we yelled back. 'We want a treat. Go to the store and get a big box of oranges and a big box of candy and have them here for us this afternoon, and we'll open the door. Or, if you'll promise on your word of honor, we'll let you in.'

"For answer he pounded on the door and thundered:

"Boys, I order you to open this door! Will you obey me?"

"Treat!" was our ultimatum.

"Followed several minutes of silence and suspense, then he called to us:

"Well, boys, I suppose the besieger instead of the besieged will have to surrender. You may open the door. I will treat."

"The door was opened slowly, cautiously, for we were doubtful, almost distrustful, but he was smiling.

"It is all right, boys," he assured us. "I have promised. We might as well close now till after the New Year's holiday. While I am going for the treat I want you all to get your books ready so I can lock the school house. I hope to be back with your treat within an hour."

"Then he started in a brisk walk toward a little country town about three miles away.

"It was a few minutes after two o'clock when a bobbed, drawn by a big, iron-gray horse, gay with sleigh-bells, glided up before the schoolhouse door. Mr. Teacher, looking as pleasant as any of us, jumped out and said:

"Here you are! I am going to leave you to yourselves to enjoy your treat," he explained, as he hastily fastened the window shutters and shut up the stove. He then locked the door and put the key in his pocket. By that time the boys had unloaded the boxes, and Mr. G— at once resumed his seat on the sled.

"Merry Christmas to all!" he shouted.

"The same to you!" we chorused. "We immediately assailed the boxes. The lid came off the box marked oranges first, and one was grabbed and the tissue wrapping removed. Then there was a wild yell—'Potatoes! Nothing but old potatoes!'

"We glanced sheepishly at the big girls' who were holding their breath. In a tremor of dread we took the top off the box labeled candy. Oh, utterly shattered hopes! The box was full of nice white candles!"

"The ample shoulders and girlish of the colonel's friend shook freely. "Um," he said. "He was some teacher."

"You bet," agreed the colonel. "If we boys had had money enough I think we'd have come pretty near to buying him a gold watch."—Detroit Free Press.

TWO DISTINCTIVE GARMENTS FOR THE BOUDOIR

The negligee is quite as important to the wardrobe as the street frock or evening gown and as much attention is being given it this season. The richest of silks and chiffons are used in its making, and the modish trimmings include fur, marabout and the metal laces. Lace and marabout are especially smart. The brightest and most extravagant of silk patterns are appropriate and pleasing for these garments, providing they are becoming. Boudoir caps are fashioned in many quaint designs, the butterfly and peasant cap in lace or chiffon daintily trimmed with a rose wreath or a band of fur. No. 8008 is a quaint, smart matinee developed in pale yellow chiffon cloth, collared and banded in a figured silk in which there are minglings of several pastel shades.

The petticoat (7740) is of liberty satin in the same soft yellow. This matinee may be made in size 38 with 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The petticoat requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for size 24. One of those richly colored broché silks is used for 8013 with trimmings of plain satin and frills of metal lace finishing neck and sleeves. A pretty fad for the boudoir is to have stockings and corthuses match the robe or matinee or contrast effectively with them. Often if the garment is fur trimmed a bit of the fur bands the slipper or trims the satin garter. This design (8013) may be made in size 36 with 5 1/4 yards of 36 inch material. No. 8008—size 32 to 44. No. 7740—size 22 to 36. No. 8013—size 32 to 44. Each pattern 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

J. Hiram Bruce's Good Fortune

Avoided Consumption by the "Timely Use of Bear's Emulsion." About twelve months ago I contracted a very severe cold which left me with a dry hacking cough I could not get rid of. Cod Liver Emulsion was recommended and I took two bottles without any relief whatever, then I took a bottle of guaranteed remedy and after taking it I returned the empty bottle and got my money back as it did not benefit me at all. I felt right much dis-satisfied, but decided to try Bear's Emulsion which had been recommended to me by a friend, and after taking two bottles I am entirely cured and there is no indication of the cough returning. I heartily recommend it to any one suffering from a cough or cold they have never been able to rid themselves of.

Very truly yours,

JESTS and JINGLES of the CHRISTMAS SEASON

Dear Santa Claus: My mother she says that she wishes you'd bring me On Christmas a heart that's kind And—and—oh, yes, the wish to mind, And happy smiles for every day, And goodness that won't wear away.

My father told me if I'd write And ask you for it that you might Bring me the wish to study well And learn to read and write and spell, And thankfulness for limbs that's straight And youth and health that's simply great.

Friend Santa, bring them all and I'll Be good and cheerful all the while; But if I can't have everything My parents say they wish you'd bring, And if I can't have only one, Why, please, I'd rather have the gun. GEORGIE.

A Preference.
"Bobbie, would you rather find your Christmas present in your stocking or on a tree?"
"I'd rather have it on a tree, 'cause there's more room there."

Wise King Solomon.
"King Solomon had a great head, all right."
"Certainly. He was the wisest man who ever lived."

"I guess he was. He had all those wives of his before there was any such thing as Christmas."

Independence.
"Well," said the good man, patting little Willie on the head, "have you written to Santa Claus?"
"No," replied the child. "I heard papa and mamma talkin' about what they were goin' to give me, one night when they thought I was asleep, and if old Santa doesn't want to stop here without gettin' invited he can drive on."

Richest Street.
The Chandni Chowk, or Silver street, is the main bazar of Delhi and one of the richest streets in the world. Many of its shops are occupied by jewelers, whose hoards of precious stones are said to represent fabulous sums. Native princes enrich their collections of state jewels through the dealers in the Chandni Chowk.

Why Are You So Tired

The Weather Is Not To Blame for That "Dragged Out" Feeling.

"This weather simply takes the life right out of me. I can hardly drag one foot after the other," said a run-down, tired-out woman, the other day. We want to say to every such person in this vicinity. Don't blame the weather, it's your condition. You need a strengthening tonic and the very best we know is Vinol which is a combination of the two most world-famous tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil and tonic iron, for the blood.

A case has just come to our attention from Milford, Mich. "Mrs. Julia Barber says: 'I was run-down and hardly able to drag about; my appetite was poor and I was not able to work. My druggist asked me to try Vinol. The first bottle helped me and after taking the second bottle I was able to work and felt well and strong. Vinol is the best medicine I have ever taken.'

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

Lamps and Safety.

Be sure that no bit of charred wick or burned fly or moth is left in the lower part of the burner. There is danger of these igniting and setting fire to the oil in the reservoir. If a lamp has been left standing with a little oil in it, it should not be lighted until filled and the burner carefully wiped. It is possible that gas may have formed, making the lamp unsafe to light before refilling.

Explanation.

Murphy was assistant cook on board a "trooper" bound for India. The first morning he forgot to wash the boiler out after breakfast, consequently there were tea leaves on the surface of the soup when dinner was served. To clear himself of blame he went to the respective messes and said: "If yez foind any tay-laves in the soup yef know it's mint."

Post-Mortem.

"I suppose," said the sympathetic neighbor, "that you will erect a handsome monument to your husband's memory?" "To his memory?" echoed the tearful widow. "Why, poor John hadn't any—I was sorting over some of his clothes today, and found a pocketful of letters I had given him to post."

One Part Was Easy.

A commercial traveler who found trade very bad wrote home in a very melancholy mood, whereupon the head of the firm wired: "If you cannot get enough orders to make your expenses you had better return at once." "Orders are very scarce," wired the traveler in reply, "but am making a lot of expenses!"

Medicinal Weeds.
"Analysis of our edible weeds show that they possess powerful medicinal qualities. The dandelion, for example, is replete with tonic salts and is a potent, besides being a natural liver medicine; the milkweed is a perfect tonic for the kidneys and a general cleanser of the system; the common yarrow is a good spring tonic for children; while red clover is one of the richest of all the most strengthening elements—Farm and Fireside.

Words of the Great Poet.
When Dr. J. M. Buckley was a young minister he took a trip abroad. While in a London museum he became aware that Alfred Tennyson was about. He followed the great poet's party for a hour, and finally was rewarded by hearing him speak. This is what Tennyson said: "You hold the child while I get a glass of beer."—Galicia Tribune.

How Planets Came Into Being.

From the striking relation of planetary motions, a British scientist has made the deductions that the plane grew out of scattered material and bringing the next into being by perturbation, with Jupiter as the starting point, and the only planet with original nucleus. From the law evolution worked out, it is concluded that the nearest planet beyond Neptune should be 47.5 as far from the sun as the earth, and comparable with Neptune in size.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Your Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle of drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, evenly. You just dampen a sponge with soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared and, after a few applications or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and luxuriant.

PLAID TRIMMINGS MAKE SMALL FROCKS GAY

Short coats are favored quite as much as the longer ones, many of the new imported models showing them very effectively. These costumes are highly attractive worn with draped or tucked skirts and trimmed with fur or vested with a rather brilliantly figured silk, as shown in 8037-7956.

Tete de negre brown duvetyn is used as shown here with a colored vest and bone buttons as the only trimming aside from the drapery on the skirt. To make this costume in size 36 it requires 2 yards of 36 inch material for the blouse (8037) and 2 3/4 yards of 42 inch material for the skirt (7956).

LOBBY PROBERS RAP MULHALL

Find That Manufacturers Methods Were "Dishonest."

WOULD FIRE McDERMOTT

Report Says Illinois Congressman Was Guilty of Grave Acts of Impropriety.

Washington, Dec. 10. — Results of the house lobby investigation by a committee headed by Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, were made public in two reports—a majority report signed by Democrats and Republicans alike and a supplemental report filed by Representative McDonald, of Michigan.

The majority made no recommendations, but declared Representative McDermott, Democrat, of Illinois, had been guilty of acts of grave impropriety, unbecoming the dignity of his position, though "we cannot say that he has been corrupted in his votes."

The majority report also held that McDermott, having intimate relations with I. H. McMichael, former chief page of the house, knew that "Colonel" M. M. Mulhall, a lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, employed McMichael. The majority held that both the National Association of Manufacturers and the American Federation of Labor engaged in political activities and expended money to effect nominations and elections of the members of the house.

McDonald, who agreed with the majority findings, declared congress had fallen somewhat from its high estate in the estimation of the American people, and made recommendations for legislative reforms.

The main conclusions in the majority report define a lobby as "a person or body of persons seeking to influence legislation by congress in any manner whatsoever." The National Association of Manufacturers, the National Council for Industrial Defense, the National Tariff Commission, the American Federation of Labor, the Washington City Association of Liquor Dealers and Washington loan sharks are found to have maintained lobbies.

Martin M. Mulhall is held to have admitted errors in some vital statements made in his charges, but to have been corroborated in others of importance by officials of the manufacturers and the industrial defense council. Mulhall, the report says, was extravagant in many of his assertions and overstated his potency and influence; he entertained animus against many of those against whom he made allegations and used names of public men with an unjustified freedom. High superior officers of the manufacturers' organization and the defense council used him "very largely and primarily for personal lobbying," says the report.

The lobby of the National Association of Manufacturers and of the National Council for Industrial Defense is held guilty of improperly preventing and seeking to prevent legislation.

Gravest doubt was expressed as to the propriety of acts of Mulhall and James A. Emery, counsel for the manufacturers. The report added:

"It is outrageous and offensive that these associations should have their paid hirelings about the capitol buttonholing members of congress, to induce them to remain away when a vote was being taken."

Nothing illegitimate was found in the activity of the American Federation of Labor. Lobbies of liquor dealers and of money lenders in Washington were found neither to have effected nor prevented legislation improperly.

Methods used by the manufacturers' organization in sending Mulhall through the country with funds to organize temporary associations was denounced as "improper, disreputable and dishonest."

WOMAN KILLS MAN ON DARE

Stabbed Him to Heart When He Gave Her Knife and Dared Her.

Baltimore, Dec. 10.—While seated with a woman at a table in a restaurant here, Joseph Meyers, known in sporting circles as "Buffalo" Meyers, took a knife from his pocket, bared his chest, and, handing the knife to the woman, dared her to stab him.

The woman drove the knife into the man's heart, helped him to the street and then fled. Meyers died shortly afterward in a hospital. It was said the couple had quarreled previously.

Dr. Craig Acquitted in Knabe Case.

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 10.—Judge Alonzo Blair instructed the jury to dismiss the case against Dr. William R. Craig, charged with the murder of Dr. Helen Knabe at Indianapolis on Oct. 23, 1911. The motion to dismiss the case was made when the state concluded its evidence.

"Wild Cat" a Tame Kitten.

HUERTA ADMITS SHE MAY BE OUSTED

"I'll Make Them Remember Me," Dictator Declares.

WOULD FIRE McDERMOTT MAY MOVE HIS CAPITAL

Revolutionary Forces Are Near Mexico City and Huerta May Make Deal With Zapata.

Mexico City, Dec. 10.—"I may be driven out of here, but before I go I will do something that will make me go down in history for 100 years," General Victoriano Huerta was quoted as saying to a prominent Mexican who conferred with him.

Owing, it is believed, to desperation, Huerta is vacillating in his actions and orders. He revoked his order giving General Telles's command to General Navarrete and called General Navarrete back to the capital.

When the chamber of deputies met it was scheduled to discuss the validity of the recent elections. The subject has been up for consideration several times, and the final vote has been deferred each time.

A small tide of American travel is again turning toward Vera Cruz on account of the many rumors of an approaching battle near the capital.

Important developments are expected following the capture for San Francisco of the women members of General Huerta's family. It is believed that much more than the announced pleasure trip is behind the move. As a matter of fact, it is believed that General Huerta is providing against the day when he must make his last stand.

The report from London that General Huerta is preparing to move the capital of Mexico to Iguala, state of Guerrero, southwest of the state of Mexico, falls entirely of an understanding in Mexico City.

It is known that Huerta has made plans for the contingency of defeat. If he had to abandon Mexico City before the advance of Pancho Villa he might possibly drive a bargain with Emiliano Zapata, bandit and chief of the rebels in Puebla, Morelos and Guerrero, who is even now raiding the suburbs of the city of Mexico.

Zapata is accommodating enough, and inasmuch as his own fingers itch for the plunder of Mexico City, he would probably oppose Villa. Only by a league with Zapata could Huerta get to Iguala. Such a compact would lack the element of confidence.

The rebels under General Candido Aguilar scored a success, over the Federal troops near Taxpan by boarding the gunboat Taxpan while the Federal troops were not looking, disabling her machinery and guns and getting away with a quantity of dynamite.

The gunboat was stationed above the town to menace the rebels. The latter got a gasoline launch, manned it with twenty men and boarded the gunboat while she was in charge of a small crew, which they overpowered.

U. S. COURT ON THAW'S SANITY

To Decide Legality of New York Statutes and Criminal Insane.

Concord, N. H., Dec. 10.—Judge Edgar Aldrich ruled that the mental condition of Harry K. Thaw must be determined in the federal courts. The court's announcement was made at the hearing on Thaw's petition to be admitted to bail.

"The constitutional questions involved in this case," said Judge Aldrich, "are of such importance that I shall not pass upon them myself, but shall forward them as promptly as possible to the supreme court of the United States."

The attorneys for Thaw, who seek to prevent his extradition through habeas corpus proceedings in the United States district court, and counsel for New York state had agreed that the charge of conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum at Matteawan, N. Y., was a bailable offense. Then the question of whether the prisoner, if admitted to bail, would be a menace to the community was raised by William T. Jerome, of counsel for New York. The court stated that the point would have to be determined before bail was permitted.

Thieves Kill Policeman.

Detroit, Dec. 10.—Thomas P. Madden, a patrolman of the Bethune street station, was shot and killed as he attempted to arrest two men in a stolen automobile. The policeman was shot in front of the station, where he had ridden with the bandits. His assailants escaped.

Pension For Mrs. Gaillard.

Washington, Dec. 10.—A bill proposing a gift from congress of about $16,000 and a pension of $30 a month for the widow of Colonel Gaillard, the Panama canal engineer, was favorably reported to the house interstate commerce committee.

Mrs. Roosevelt at Panama.

Panama, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Miss Margaret Roosevelt spent today as the guests of Secretary Bishop and were shown over the canal. They sail for New York tomorrow.

WOMAN TERRORIZES TOWN

Watsonville Quakes at Mysterious Person With "Scary" Eyes.

Watsonville, Pa., Dec. 10.—A mysterious "woman in black" has terrorized Watsonville, Columbia county, and women and children are so frightened they almost quake in fear, and many men have shown signs of having lost their nerve and daring.

This mysterious woman has been traveling the streets of the town at all hours of the night, and she does nothing more than stare into the eyes of those she chances to meet. But that is enough for those who say they have seen her. They say her eyes would scare any one.

The "woman in black" makes her appearance just at a time and place when she can cause the most fright, and those who have been able to run after looking into her eyes are alleged to have broken sprinting records.

Women and children refuse to venture out of doors and insist on having every door of their houses locked and every window nailed down. Now that the "woman in black" has begun to look into the windows of homes and show those "scary" eyes to mothers and their children, mothers refuse to stay home alone, and the men of the town find themselves cooped for the night as soon as they report home from a day's labor.

So much terror has been caused by the woman's presence that the police have been asked to solve the mystery and cause an arrest, and the police have promised to do so, but most of the policemen admit they do not like the job and that they are in no great hurry to solve the mystery.

COMPLETE THE JURY TO TRY SCHMIDT

Slayer's Relatives Coming From Germany to Aid Defense.

New York, Dec. 10.—The jury that will try Hans Schmidt, the confessed slayer of Anna Ammiller, a domestic, was completed before Judge Warren W. Foster, in the court of general sessions.

Alphonse Koelbe, the counsel that Schmidt "by the will of God" only will recognize, utterly ignoring and refusing to consult with his leading counsel, former Judge W. M. K. O'cott and Terrence J. McManus, said that the prisoner's father and sister were now on their way to this country from Germany. Those relatives will testify, it is stated, that Schmidt has been insane for years.

The actual taking of testimony as to the commission of the crime and the finding of the dismembered body of Anna Ammiller in the Hudson river is expected to take up only a little time. The real battle will be fought out in the expert testimony of alienists.

Because of his refusal to submit to manacles, Schmidt has not been shaved or had his hair cut since his confinement in the Tombs, hence he presents anything but a pleasing appearance as he sits in court.

His pale face was framed in a shaggy brown beard, over which hung wisps of his long brown hair. He wore a black suit and had the handkerchief knotted about his neck. A derby hat and a few coat bore evidence of some hazy notion that he might be discharged at any moment.

When the time came for him to rise as the oath was administered to a juror the attendant who sat just behind the prisoner had to push him by the arm. Schmidt gazed vacantly at each juror as he took the oath. The attendant sat behind him instead of beside him in order to be in a better position to frustrate any possible violence on the part of the prisoner.

Three Clerks to a Senator.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Democratic economy was not mentioned by either side when a resolution providing that any senator not already having three clerks shall at once be allowed that number, went through the upper house so fast that those in the galleries could scarcely follow the proceedings.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Secretary Lane designated 1,750,000 acres of dry lands in western states as suitable for entry under the enlarged homestead act. The lands are in Montana, North Dakota, Arizona, New Mexico and Idaho.
